Additional Oleomargarine Special Tax Stamps Reported Carter Litchfield, ARA #880

Five new oleomargarine special tax stamps have turned up since my original checklist of these revenues was published in the American Revenuer of January 1967. An 1898 $48 Type I stamp is reported by Rev. John Ruback. Nineteenth century oleo special tax stamps are mighty scarce, and this copy may well be unique. Morton Dean Joyce has shown me a 1929 $200 Type VI (imperforate, with coupons) stamp that was not in my original listing. An interesting perforation variant of the 1942 $6 Type VII (rouletted 7, no con-pons) stamp has also turned up. This copy is pin perforated 13 horizontally and rouletted 7 vertically instead of the usual rouletted 7 all around. This novel perforation was precably a temporary expedient at a time when the horizontal rouletting machine was down for repairs. Charlie Hermann reports a 1950 $48 Type VIII (imperforate, with coupons) stamp which hasn't been seen before.

The most interesting new discovery comes from Mike Hilton, who has found a new type of oleomargarine special tax stamp. This stamp, designated Type IX, is a certificate issued to replace a special tax stamp that had been lost or destroyed before its expiration date. The certificate was not printed specifically for oleomargarine dealers and manufacturers, but was a standard form that could be filled out for all categories of special tax stamps. The certificate illustrated was made out for a lost $48 retail dealer in oleomargarine (RDO) special tax stamp and is dated for fiscal year 1950 (July 1, 1949 to June 30, 1950). It is not known when such certificates were first issued, but they were probably in service for a number of years. Sherwood Springer has shown me another such certificate made out for a $27.50 retail liquor dealer stamp; it is also dated for fiscal year 1950.

Any collectors possessing further unlisted oleomargarine special tax stamps are urged to report them to the author, whose address is Carter Litchfield, 412 West Brookside, Bryan, Texas 77801.

Cancellations and Playing Card Manufacturers

W. H. Waggoner, A.R.A. 896

To the collector of revenue stamps, cancellations present a far different problem than they do to the collector of postal issues. Even the beginning collector of revenues, for example, is aware that hand-stamped cancellations command a premium over the more common script cancels. For the more experienced revenuer, however, even a nicely centered, clearly legible cancellation, whether stamped or written, frequently can raise an interesting set of problems by its very existence. Who was this man (or firm) whose name appears in the cancellation? What business was involved? Where was the firm located? What happened to it?

Collectors of playing card stamps are particularly prone to such problems since the cancellations commonly applied to these stamps consist of various combinations of numbers and initials only. It is to this group of collectors that this article is especially addressed since I am certain that they too have been frustrated at one time or another by a set of letters unrelateable to any known company. Equally frustrating is the lack of available reference material through which an identification might be made.

Accordingly, the attached "cancellation-company" correlation list is presented with the request that other playing card collectors aid in its correction and/or completion. The data included was gathered from a number of sources. Unfortunately, little can be said about the present activities of some of these companies or even if they still exist as playing card manufacturers.

The author would welcome correspondence from anyone interested in this phase of revenue collecting.

On Plating U. S. Revenue Stamps

Howard B. Beaumont, ARA #247

Note: This article, based on the writer's experience in plating the 5c Certificate, was originally prepared to assist a man now working on the 25c Certificate.

For plating any revenue stamp there are five basic requirements:

- 1—Patience, especially near the end when only a few positions are missing. 2—Good eyesight.
- 3-A strong glass, preferably ten power.
- 4—An abundance of material. Singles will not help in plating but are useful to verify constant varieties. Horizontal pairs are a help especially if they show sheet margins. Vertical pairs and strips are very useful in tieing together blocks. Blocks, the larger the better, are the most important material and one cannot have too many of them. When the writer plated the 5c Certificate, over 500 blocks passed through his hands.
- 5—Information: size and shape of the plate, plate number and imprint and their location on the plate, transfers and cracks and their plate positions if known. Much information can be found in philatelic literature; much can be learned by correspondence with advanced collectors, especially those who have done some plating.

The key to plating is the relation of the position dot to the design of the stamp. It would appear that the first step in preparing the plate was to make a dot at what would be the upper right corner of stamp. With the dots as guides the design was then rocked in. The result was that on the 5c Certificate the relation of the position dot to the upper right ball was never the same on two adjacent stamps. On the 25c titles it will be the relation of the dot to the upper right corner.

There are exceptions. The rocker for the 5c Certificate and for many others had but one design. Apparently the rocker for the 2c Bank Check, and probably for some of the other small stamps, had three designs and the position dot appears on every third stamp at the lower right corner. But as the 2c Bank Check had several plates this may not be true for all plates. On the ten cent titles the position dots are at the lower right corner. On the 10c Inland there is a dot at the top center oval that is vital in plating.

It is believed that the rocker for the 25c, 30c, 40c and the other large stamps had but one design. In the case of the 25c Certificate the plate was first started with the laying out of the dots and then the design was rocked in. It is the relation of the upper right corner to the position dots that 's the key to plating this stamp.

Having accumulated an abundance of material, the next step is an index of it. The writer used a loose leaf notebook with 8½ by 11 pages. One or more blocks, depending on the size, were mounted on a page generally to the left so that a sketch, approximately the rize of the block, could be drawn to the right. Each block should be given a number with the prefix "B" and each stamp on the block should be numbered. Pairs can be mounted on a second series of sheets with the prefix "P" and strips can be mounted on a third series with the prefix "S". It will also be well to pencil the number on the back of each piece because you will want to remove them from time to time.

After mounting the material make a sketch of each piece; number each stamp; and show its identifying features. For the 5c Certificate this was the upper right ball and position dot.

Having drawn all the sketches it will be found that the position dots will fall into a number of types. Below, suggested types for the 25c Certificate are listed. Unusual features such as cracks, transfers, scratches should also be sketched and indexed.

Types of Dots-25c Certificate

From my stocks of this stamp I noted these dots and gave them these suggested types. Others probably will be found.

Type a-above and to the left of the vertical frame line

Type b-directly above the vertical frame line

Type c-low dot at 45 degrees to the corner

Type d-opposite the horizontal frame line

Type e-a large dot

Type f-a dot that touches

Type g-a dot inside the corner

Type h-high dot at 45 degrees from the corner

Type i-dot with a tail parallel to right frame line

Note: The dots on the 25c Certificate are smaller than on most stamps and at times difficult to see. This may be due to the dot being covered by the frame line. It could also be due to my poor eyesight.

Typical sketch showing block number, stamps on the block identified by letters, and the type of dots found on each stamp.

After the sketches are completed prepare an index of the dots which will go somewhat like this:

No dot: B6c, B23e, B57h, S13b . . .

Dot a: B3a, B36c, B40d, P2b, S13d . . .

Dot b: B2c, B4a, B15g . . . Dot c: B31d, B46a, S17c . . .

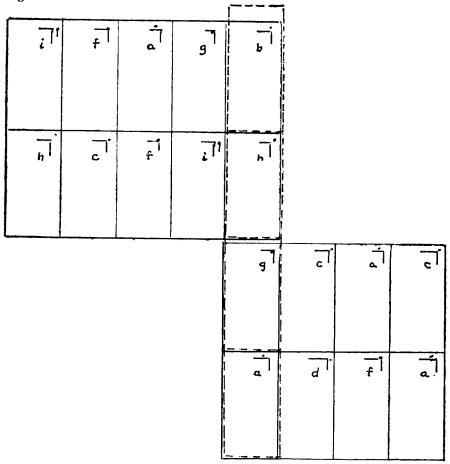

and so on, ending with a list of cracks, transfers, etc.

When the index is completed, draw on heavy white cardboard a full size drawing of the plate with ample margins in case marginal markings are found. Number each stamp beginning with the top left corner and working to the right. For the 25c Certificate, the top left corner will be #1 and the bottom right corner will be #102.

You are now ready to start plating. Refer to the index and pick out the pieces that have dot "a". Suppose you have a block wit! an "a" and under it a "c". You look for another block with an "a" and a "c" under it. If you find it you have tentatively joined two blocks. Always two or more adjacent dots on one block must match the dots on the other block. There must always be an overlap of at least two positions. Eventually you will build up pieces like the following sketch and finally blocks will be found that connect the pieces. But not until a definite starting point is found, a sheet margin corner or an imprint piece, can the pieces be mounted on the cardboard drawing.

Sketch showing how a block of ten and a block of eight are tied together by a vertical strip of four (dash lines) to form a piece of 18 positions. The two top stamps of the strip have the same dots as the two right stamps of the block of ten. The two bottom stamps of the strip have the same dots as the two left stamps of the block of eight. The rule that there must always be an overlap of at least two positions has been followed. The top sheet margin of the strip proves that these stamps form parts of the top four rows.

Some Comments

As one progresses with their plating they will find markings which will help greatly in their work. On the 5c Certificate I found:

A small cross in the top margin marking the center of the plate.

On the last right hand vertical row the dots were all farther from the ball than on any of the other stamps.

In the second state of the plate practically all of the stamps on the left half of the plate had a dot over the top left scroll.

I do not have enough copies of the 25c Certificate to enable me to find much in the way of markings or to prove they are constant. I did notice these:

A diagonal line from top right to bottom left through the "E" of "STATES". This could be a thread on the plate or a scratch. If the latter, it should be helpful.

A dot 2 mm above the "E" in "STATES".

A dot above and between the "E" and "S" of "STATES".

The imprint, like that of the 25c Entry, is in the center of the left margin. The Boston Revenue Book says the 25c Certificate was printed from Plate 25C and that there were 1,162,214 issued prior to April 30, 1864. After that date, 32,344,027 twenty-five cent stamps of various titles were issued. Unquestionably a big majority of these were the 25c Certificate and this leads me to believe that there is probably a second state of the plate or a second plate. Possibly both.

STATE REVENUE CATALOGER NEEDS HELP

Help is needed (especially from collectors living in U. S. Southern States) in compiling the addenda to the 1960 U. S. State Revenue Catalog, by Elbert S. A. Hubbard. Those who can send data or, better, samples of stamps used in our southern States, are requested to forward material to Mr. Hubbard at 3739 Benton, Santa Clara, Cal. 95051. Stamps may even be in several pieces, and are especially desired with cancellation dates.

Currently Mr. Hubbard is researching stamps of North and South Carolina, but will be working up lists of the other States shortly.

All interested collectors who send a stamped reply envelope will receive a few California revenue stamps in return.

At a later date, addendas shall be prepared for the balance of the States, however, addendas have been recently produced for Minnesota, Louisiana, Maine, Indiana, Iowa, Idaho, Kentucky. Georgia, Florida, and the "C" and "D" States.

- 3. State and local.
- 4. Foreign.

Should sufficient demand develop for additional, more specialized circuits, (i.e., Match & Medicine, dated dox, wines, individual foreign countries or groups of countries), these will be organized in the future.

The success of the Sales Department is dependent on the active participation of our members, both as buyers and sellers. It is hoped that salesbooks will be available by next month for these members wishing to sell, and that circuits may be started going well before the end of the year.

Footnotes

- 11. I believe that the provisionals of this company belong in a list of those used by companies owning private dies. While X. Dazin had a private die prepared, stamps from it were apparently never used, and perhaps for this reason these provisionals were never listed in B. There seems little question the XB cancel was that of X. Bazin. See: Holcombe, Collectors Club Philatelist, Jan. 1942, p. 8-11. Evidently there were at least two types of overprint: XB and year and XB without date.
- 12. This stamp was cancelled by a die cut K. It was assigned to Kidder by S, but was unlisted by A and B.
 - 13. Cancel: K. and date.
 - 14. Cancel: W. & S. and date.
 - 15. Cancel: Y., L. & C. and date.

OREGON AND LOUISIANA DISCOVERIES ABOUT 100 YEARS LATE:

Major varieties of "classic" Stard documentary stamps have just been discovered—about 100 years after issue!!

Oregon stamp listings by "old-timers" George Cabot, Frank Applegate, E. R. Vanderhoof, Brewster Kenyon, W. D. Grout, J. D. Bartlett, and Prof. J. K. Adinaw note that the 1876 10c brown is unknown to them, but suspected to exist. Hubbard now confirms its existance, but in imperforate condition only.

Mr. Hubbard states that he has an Oregon 50c blue imperforate stamp identical in color and paper to the celebrated "emergency" 1871 $1 blue imperforate stamp. The die is like the first issue of stamps, while all other 50c blue stamps are of later dies. The cancellation date on the stamp is 1876, as are most of those on the $1 stamp.

In the popular 1866 Louisiana Lottery stamps, three more dies of the 7½c green must now be added to the listings, according to "El". Members who are interested in these studies, or in helping with them, are invited to contact Mr. Hubbard at 3739 Benton, Santa Clara, California 25051. Research is also in progress on all other U. S. State and Local revenue stamps.
