President's Message

Now that I have been elected president of the American Revenue Association, I would like to speak to all of our members on a matter of great importance—our Sales Circuits.

According to our Sales Manager, our circuits have been very successful, giving many members an opportunity to dispose of their duplicates. All of these have gotten a great deal of pleasure out of the circuits.

Yet just recently it was necessary to expell a member because he had refused repeated requests to pay for or pass on circuits which he had held for many months.

Now we have four persons who are holding several of our circuits. These men are in essence trying to steal from all of us, for if they do not return or pay for the material, the American Revenue Association will have to use YOUR dues money to pay the owners of these stamps.

UNLESS—unless we have a lawyer among our members who will give us assistance in legal matters such as this. He could save all of us untold money—and worry.

If there is such a person who will help us out, please write me, using the address given on the masthead. We need help. Please give it to us.

John C. Ruback

CIRCUIT NOTES

And here we are again.

First, to bring you up to date on the sales circuits:

Statistics as of 1 August:

| Sales volume, books returned to owners ..... | $9,609.90 |

*The gap widens more.

And then, the auction. If you have a desire to go rapidly berserk, try one like auction 5 all by your lonesome. At any rate, elsewhere in this issue appear the realized prices for that sale. The bids that were received created a veritable deluge, and it's most gratifying, after all of the work put forth at this end, to note the huge volume of mail, the furious bidding, and the high degree of success accomplished. Bids were received from as far away as New Zealand, France, Italy, Sweden, England (many), Germany, and the Netherlands. We are truly becoming international in scope.

Here are the auction 5 statistics, and we will respond to any questions not answered below, except that "who bid what" is privileged information, as is the name of the winner of any lot. That information may be given only by dispensation from the party in question.

The results:

|                              |            |
|------------------------------|------------|
| Total lots offered .....     | 738        |

| Auction expenses .....       | 25.41      |
| Net income .....             | $376.91   |

How about that?

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Total number of bidders .....                    | 112 |
| Total number of winners (at least one lot) ..... | 92  |
| Total number of losers (no lots) 20            |     |

Total number of members submitting lots ----- 37

**Two of these were letters arriving after bid closing.

Can you imagine what this auction would have been like if all 500+ members were alive?

There were an amazing number of tie winning bids, decided by postmark alone, or, where applicable, by the + and ++ signs, where the bids were raised slightly.

All winners and losers were notified and it is felt that this sale was a great success. We wish to thank all of you who participated. Let's see what happens in the next one, which will hopefully appear next month.

Can we get all 500+ members involved?

—G. M. Abrams, Sales Mgr.

Revenue Revolution

By Robson Lowe

For many years the collectors in the United States have been the only ones catered for by an annual catalogue containing a comprehensive listing of revenue stamps and in consequence there has been a regular market price for these lovely examples of the engravers' art.

The recent auction held in May at 50 Pall Mall, which was mainly the collection formed by Dr. Albert E. Thill of California, showed that there were hundreds of collectors from all parts of the world who are interested in the revenue stamps of most countries. The following commentary is based on the prices realized and the number of bidders. The auctioneers' estimates were admittedly guess work but on the average they were surprisingly accurate, the total printed estimates being £31,367 and the sales totalling £30,929, or just under 99%. Valuations are printed in parenthesis.

Great Britain

Great Britain brought £2,266 (£1-977), the surprises being the 1785 Glove Tax £165 (£20), the Medicine duty labels £197 (£123), 1786 Perfume Duty 1d and Hair Powder Duty £54 (£14) and the six bisected Consular Service provisionals £150 (154). Ireland was strong fetching £532 (£438) although the Registration of Deeds £1 and 2 embossed £25 (20), and the Record of Titles 1/- and 2/6 £15 (£4) seemed surprisingly cheap.

The Railway stamps went like a bomb at £3,076 (£1,628), England £1,479 (812), Ireland £609 (£391), Scotland £495 (£228) and Wales £492 (£197). Most lots were collections of one service but an example of a set was the Monmouth Rail & Canal Co. 1870 1d, 2d and 3d which fetched £55 (£20).

British Empire

Cyprus and Gibraltar were popular, £449 (£155) but the AFRICAN result was less enthusiastic, the total realizing £2,777 (£2,971). Among the highly specialized countries, popularity rather than rarity had its effect—Cape £321 (£522), Mauritius £109 (£185), Natal £297 (286), Nyasaland and Rhodesia £472 (£274), Orange Free State £213 (249), Transvaal £360 (£428). The following were the special rarities. Cape 1864 ½d to £50 mint £75 (170), 1874 £10 "PEN-ALTY" mint £16 (£25), 1898 £5 mint £5 (8), 1903 £20 mint £19 (£25), Natal 1858 Cape 18d and 15/- embossed mss. opt. £16 (£15), Nyasaland 1891 £10, £25 and £50 perforated SPECIMEN £85 (£50), £50 imperf unused £32 (£25) O. R. C. 1903 6d color trials (3) £34 (£20), Transvaal 1902 2/6 color trials (3) £33 (£25), 2/6 block of four with inverted center £82.50 (£40).

ASIA had its ups and downs at £4,161 (£4,451) with Ceylon £1,024 (£1,312), Hong Kong £244 (£127), India £1,022 (£1,105) and States £1,012 (946) and Straits Settlements £622 (£769). The high spots were the sheet of 45 Ceylon Foreign Bill £140 (£200), an 1874 master die £15, the embossed dies £50-500 (5), £50 (£40) and the telegraphs £390 (338); India telegraphs £149 (195). Many of the Straits Settlements seemed very inexpensive.

AUSTRALIA boomed, the total £2,590 (£2,265) being brought by intense competition—Commonwealth £82 (77), N. S. W. £351 (£447), N. Z. £763 (£651), Queensland £424 (£423), S. Australia £185 (94), Tasmania £204 (£119), Victoria £209 (£166) and Western Australia £288 (£231). The effect of national pastimes was shown by the popularity of the Beer Duty issues which fetched £455 (172). The Railway issues were only a little less popular at £235 (£144).

CANADA must have been overvalued as these attractive stamps only realized £1,460 (£1,584). The provincial issues were the most popular: Manitoba £175 (£160), Ontario £174 (£132), Quebec £178 (£218) and Saskatchewan £108 (£115).

The WEST INDIES went well at £690 (£534), the Granada fetching

£320 (£255) and Jamaica £94 (44), the De la Rue essays and proofs of the 1884 issue realizing £174 (£160).

Europe

The support in this section was patchy and there were many bargains based on the auctioneer's estimates. The total was £7,714 (£10,921), of which the smaller countries were best realizing £1,274 (£1,331). The other strong country was Spain £563 (458), surprising those who had expected to get them at much lower prices. The other results were Austria £263 (£370), Belgium £239 (382), France £1,024 (£1,966) and Colonies £219 (378), Germany £481 (£637), Greece £208 (£230), Hungary £264 (270), Italy £591 (£847), Netherlands £188 (£265), Russia £277 (£305), Switzerland £1,917 (£3,162) and Yugoslavia £255 (£320).

Balance of World

The rest did well—the few AFRICA realized £149 (£115), and the AMERICAS £3,230 (£3,205). Of the latter the larger countries were Argentina £417 (410), Brazil £406 (442), Colombia £149 (£192), Costa Rica £187 (158), Guatemala £201 (172), Mexico £440 (410), Peru £148 (247), and Uruguay £144 (£165).

ASIA boomed realizing £1,731 (£1,053) with China £695 (£342), Japan £427 (£250) and Philippines £210 (£155).

The experiment must be considered successful as over five hundred people bid. If the famous Postal History Auctions had proved so well supported when they started some thirty-five years ago, the present level of prices would have been achieved within a decade. In fact the turnover in this first Revenue auction was about that of the first five years of Postal History Auctions.

The auctioneers have made one interesting point in their report and that is the marketing costs for such an auction are nearly twice those of a normal sale. Nevertheless, they have already received several collections of Revenue stamps for sale in the future and subject to sufficient value being received intend holding a second Revenue auction next season.

U. S. Special Tax Stamps: Additional Notes

By Ernest C. Wilkens

(Conclusion)

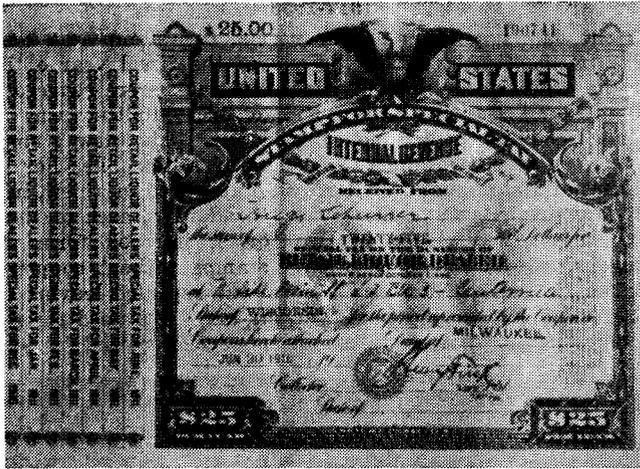

Illus. 5

1898-1901

The Spanish-American War revenue bill added a number of new occupations to the list of Special Tax payers and created new subdivisions in the tobacco group, which had been exempt from the tax since 1891. New stamps were issued for 4 classes of Brokers; 4 classes of Proprietors of places of amusement, theaters, museums, etc.; 3 classes each of Manufacturers of Tobacco and of Cigars; 3 kinds of Dealer in Leaf Tobacco; and a stamp for Dealer in Tobacco, and one for Manufacturer of Mixed Flour—a total of 19 new special tax stamps. The 11 stamps for the liquor group and the 6 in the food products group (oleo and filled cheese) were not changed.

1902-1913

In 1902 eighteen of the Special Taxes introduced in 1898 were repealed (Manufacturer of Mixed Flour was retained). However in that year 3 stamps for Adulterated Butter occupations were added, and the Oleomargarine group was divided into colored and uncolored Dealers and Retailers. In 1904 a stamp for Manufacturer of Renovated or Process Butter was included. During the Fiscal Year ended June 30, 1910, a great effort was made by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to redesign the many kinds of tax-paid, customs, and Special Tax stamps with the purpose of increased productivity. Special Tax stamps for the much-used categories of Retail Malt Liquor Dealer and Retail Dealer in Uncolored Oleomargarine were altered to a smaller size and printed two to a sheet.

1914-1916

The Act of Congress of 22 October 1914 put back on the list the occupations that had been taxed under the 1898 Act, but the classes or subdivisions of these occupations were greatly expanded. For instance, Manufacturer of Tobacco was divided into eight classes according to production and was taxed at rates from $3 to $2,496 a year. Thirty-nine new stamps were needed and all were printed in the new format of two to a sheet. In 1915 a new stamp for Manufacturer or Distributor of Opium was created.

1917-1953

In 1917 the date appearing on the special tax stamp was changed from the beginning of the fiscal year to the end of the fiscal year of issue. Also in this year the profusion of class divisions and rates were reduced by about a third, to 45 different stamps. This trend toward simplicity was reversed in 1919 with new subdivisions and new occupations. The new stamps included five in the opium group, two kinds of Owners of Automobiles For Hire, and a stamp for Users of Motor Boats. All of these appeared in a new, much smaller format and were printed ten to the sheet. In addition, each of these kinds of Special Tax Stamps was issued in two forms: in book form with twelve monthly coupons, and in sheets of twenty stamps without coupons. In 1926 the Special Tax on many of the occupations was repealed leaving only liquor, food products and opium groups liable for the tax. The need for revenue during World War II brought back many of the former special tax categories.

1953 to date

The trends towards greater simplicity of production is certainly evident in the Special Tax Stamps issued in 1953 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954, and issued every year since. The design is that of an all-purpose stamp; the Collector of Internal Revenue simply types or writes in the occupation for which the stamp is to be issued and collects the applicable tax.

The summary of the issues of Special Tax Stamps presented above was, unfortunately, rather sketchy for the years after 1917 because of a lack of published data and the scarcity of many of the stamps. It is in this area that interested fiscalists might concentrate their efforts so that a complete picture may be presented. But we owe Mr. Scoville a vote of thanks for his thorough introduction to the early issues of Special Tax Stamps.

The Star Match Corporation

By Bruce Miller, ARA 732

The Star Match Corporation of Portland, Maine was first organized in 1866. In 1869 the works was destroyed by fire, which might well have written finis to the venture, as it did to so many others. However, the company was bought out by two youthful stockholders, James Coffin Jordan and Manasseh Smith, who proceeded to build a new factory and launch what became one of the most successful operations of its kind in the country. Production was devoted exclusively to card matches, and although the business was confined largely to the the New England market, its volume was exceeded by few others. Over a period of sixteen years (1867-1883), almost 284 million private stamps (R0172) were used.

Both Jordan and Smith were natives of Maine. The former was born at Portland in 1840, and served as treasurer and general agent of the corporation from 1879 until 19011, when he assumed the office of president. He saams to have been the principal owner. Smith was born at Warren, Maine in 1841, and was a lawyer by profession.

In 1892 the Diamond Match Company acquired a $35,000 interest in the Star Match Corp., but the factory continued in operation under its own name until 1911, when the plant was transferred to Oswego, New York.

Illustrated is a card of Star matches, manufactured during the period 1866-1871. These cards or "combs" were the forerunners of modern book matches, and were both cheap and popular. The card is split part-way into seventeen splints, which were broken off as required. The match-heads, scarcely visible in the photo, are mere flecks of reddish compound, but despite their crudity these ancient matches presumably did their job. The package consisted of several cards (totalling no more than 100 matches) enclosed in a plain wrapper of cheap manila tissue paper. Only the private stamp served to identify the brand. The card shown was accompanied by the original wrapper, bearing a stamp on old paper.
