The National Union Match Company

by Hugh T. (Tom) Carson, ARA

Elliott Perry (alias Christopher West) and Henry Holcombe gave this wrapper the title —sui generis; of its own kind, unique. It is unique in that it is an imitation contemporaneously used to defraud the government of the match tax. It is not a counterfeit since it does not copy an existing stamp or claim to be from the US Internal Revenue. It is not a fantasy like the Jock and Wilder, since it was actually used — not created for collectors.

The Cunliffe collection had two National Union Match Wrappers and stated that the stamps were different. The stamps are different. They measure 82 mm by 50 mm and 78 mm by 50 mm. West's Private Die Match Stamps and "The Boston Revenue Book" stated that the wrappers measured at 81 by 48.5 mm. There are a few other differences in the wrappers. The 78 mm stamp is very similar to the one in West's book, except the type-face of Boston Highlands appears to be slightly different. The 78 mm stamp is sharp almost like it was printed from a fresh plate. Shrinkage might account for the size differences — 1.5 mm is not much difference on such a large stamp.

The 82 mm wrapper was missing the line above INTER REV and ONE CENT. It also appears to be from a worn plate (block or phototype). The quality of printing matches the quality of the example illustrated in West's book, but the one in West's book has lines above ONE CENT and INTER REV. If the differences in printing size and apparent wear on the plates mean anything, the National Union Match Company may have been larger than imagined. There were

Revenue Journal of Great Britain—September 1998

Much of the September issue of the Revenue Journal of Great Britain is taken up by the Editor's editorial and reviews of other journals and publications, just as this review does, and for the same purpose—to make the readers aware of what else exists that might be of interest to them.

Of interest might be the Revenue Society of Great Britain's Auction 3. An insert with 482 lots of revenues from around the world (103 lots from Great Britain), the listing illustrates many lots in color via a color photocopier.

Of interest might be Jeffrey Kalp's musings as to "The Most Beautiful Stamps in the World?" Revenues of course, he suggests the Canada Law stamp. Of interest might be Alan Anyon's examination of "Colombia—Punched Cancels." Of interest might be the "Notes & Queries" where questions are posed and answers given. This time items from Algeria, Australia, Cypres, Bolivia, Colombia and Panama are presented.

Of interest might be Harry Dagnal's study of "Great Britain—Revenue Stamped Paper and Forgeries." Forgeries go back to 1697 when several forgers were executed for their troubles or as one contemporary report about three forgers said two "were ty'd up" while the third "was turned off." Several "Imitation Medicine Duty Stamps" are also discussed and illustrated in a follow-up item.

The Revenue Journal of Great Britain is published quarterly by the Revenue Society of Great Britain. Subscription to the journal is by membership. For information contact their Secretary, Tony Hall, 53a High Street, Whitwell, Hitchin, Herts SG4 8AJ, UK.

Scripophily—August 1998

Scripophily is the quarterly journal of the International Bond and Share Society. Based in London, the society is now twenty years old. The August issue devotes most of its space to news, reviews and auction reports, all well illustrated.

Three feature articles include "Imprinted revenue stamps on U.S. bonds, Part 2" by Ronald E. Lesher (yes, our ARA President), "Art Nouveau—Jugendstil" by Howard Shakespeare, "Alaskan trail" by Henry Hinck and "Scripophily in Tokyo" by David Baeckelandt.

Lesher's article looks at some of the bonds from the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad which illustrate the kinds of agreement and certified statement typically taxed with imprinted revenue stamps. Shakespeare gives an overview of stock certificates and bonds with Art Nouveau designs. Hinck tells of the Alaska Central Railway and illustrates one of their staock certificates with a map of Alaska. Baeckelandt provides the reader with an overview look at Japanese stock certificates.

All aspects of the various certificates are considered; the companies themselves, the certificates designs, signatures and, of course, tax stamps.

Scripophily is published quarterly by the International Bond and Share Society. In addition to publishing the journal, the society holds quarterly auctions in which members may participate. For information about membership contact Peter Duppa-Miller, Beechcroft, Combe Hay, Bath BA2 7EG, UK (fax (+44) 1225 840583; e-mail peter.duppa-miller@virgin.net>.

possibly 3 different plates and heavy wear on the plates.

If a vendor or government is not worrying about their stamps being counterfeited, quality control is not a major concern. Another theory would be that the early stamp dealers made copies of this stamp as they are alleged to have of the Macklin. We may never know.

A good story is hard to resist.

According to Aldrich's census there are 10 of these stamps. During the several years that I dealt in revenue stamps, we only handled one. They are very scarce. I would be interested in the measurements of your stamps. My email is https://doi.org/10.1001/j.gov/html/. ## Are revenue stamps philatelically important?

by Michael J. Morrissey, ARA

Philatelic importance is a much discussed subject these days and one that perhaps means different things to different philatelic judges and exhibitors. The subject almost belies definition. One sage not long ago in these pages mused on this subject and gave "purple stamps of the world" as an example of a philatelic subject that lacked "importance". He, like the associate justice of the supreme court in speaking of obscenity, could not define it, but knew it when he saw it.

Perhaps importance is not defined by an immutable standard, but is a relative matter. In other words, some subjects are philatelically more important than other subjects. The postal history of New Orleans in the 19th Century is certainly more important than the postal history of Johnson County, Kentucky for the same time period. The postal history of the 19th Century transatlantic mails is more important than a study of the postal rates in the Belgian Congo from 1890 to 1920. The importance of the New York Postmaster's provisional issue of 1845 surpasses that of the Bureau Precancels of Kansas.

Where then in relative importance do revenue stamps as a class stand in relation to postage stamps as a class? Most dyed-in-the-wool postal collectors and historians do not consider revenue stamps worthy of collection or study as they had nothing to do with the transportation of the mail and everyone knows that philately is the collecting of "postage stamps." Or is it?

Prior to World War I, postage and revenue stamps were collected more or less as equals. In time though the postage stamps ascended to prominence, perhaps because of the tremendous influence the British held over world philately. Most British postage stamps were valid for revenue purposes and high value stamps, seldom postally used, were common fiscally used. The revenue cancel usually made these usages apparent and disqualified such stamps from a postage stamp collection. Thus, revenue usages and eventually revenue stamps developed a reputation of disdain among many collectors. Additionally, governments prohibited or discouraged the possession and collecting of revenue stamps, many of high denomination, viewing such possession as a great threat to the treasury because of their potential for cleaning and reuse.

There were undoubtedly other contributing factors. In recent years revenue stamps have been resurgent. In 1968 Bob Cunliffe won the first World Series of Philately with his 19th Century U.S. Revenue stamps. The F.I.P. which used to permit the exhibition of only the host country's fiscals at its international exhibitions has now granted the revenue category its own commission. Revenue stamps, shown internationally for about the past 10 years, are commonly exhibited in almost every Champion of Champions qualifying event throughout the year. Revenues are also featured in several fiscal history exhibits that concentrate on the documents taxed and their rates.

These revenue exhibits may be judged as traditional or fiscal philately or fiscal history (the revenue counterpart of postal history), and are in direct competition with postal exhibits for the special awards. They generally fare quite well. But, where do revenue stamps stand with respect to postal exhibits? Which is more important as a class, revenue stamps or postage stamps; postal history or fiscal history? May I suggest that as a class they are equally important though postage may be more popular.

One triumphal statement made by a philatelic judge at a recent national show was that a postage stamp paid a fee for a service while a revenue stamp gave you nothing in return and was nothing more than a way for the government to get into your pocket. Comparing the various roles of these two great categories of stamps is indeed interesting, but how one category is to be preferred because of the general perception that postage stamps give the purchaser or user something for their value while a revenue stamp does not is not apparent. The stamps should stand philatelically on their own two feet, so to speak, without regard to the perception of the general public about their

Romanian tobacco taxpaids

by John Barefoot, ARA

We are working on an update of our Romania listings which will be included as part of our next publication Balkin Revenues.

Romania is pretty well complete except a couple of small areas, one of which is tobacco. Romania was a great producer of tobacco—and no doubt Romanians were great consumers of it too. We know that tobacco strips existed from the turn of the century to the 1930s. Interestingly, they have just been reintroduced in 1996. There are separate designs for imported and for locally produced tobacco, and each packet sold has to bear a stamp. Neither design shows a monetary value.

Some readers may have taxpaids from Romania. If anyone can expand the listing here you are invited to contact us at J. Barefoot, Ltd., P.O. Box 8, York YO30 7GL, UK.

Eleven CalRev members and six guests gathered Sunday July 26 at Jerry Lurie's clubhouse in Pancheco for six hours of philatelic talk. This was the club's annual picnicouting; a meeting away from the hectic rush relative functions.

A postage stamp is designed to carry a letter and a revenue stamp is designed to tax the public. Both are statements of fact and philatelically speaking are neutral statements. The claim that postage stamps are more worthy of collection and study because they give the consumer a warmer and fuzzier of a bourse and stamp show and a time to relax and get to know each other.

Several of the members brought parts of their collections or some trading material. Dick Kemp exhibited his feeling than do revenue stamps is an absurdity!

The revenue stamps of 1862-1883, the socalled Civil War revenues, for example, may not have carried the mail, but they surely carried the Union to victory. And that, my friend, is philatelic importance! Springer-listed taxpaids (the longer strips); Joe Ross showed and discussed his recently completed Iraqi catalog and Colombian revenues on document; a Canadian taxpaid collection was displayed by Herb Epperson; and, Jay Lewis revealed some new First and Second issue goodies.

The food was so good—lasagna, chicken, "CalRev B of B salad," apple pie ala mode and strawberries ala Walther.

The club's meeting lineup for the remainder of 1998 is as follows: September 26 at the San Francisco Rosen bourse; November 8 aat Sacapex in Sacramento; and, December 5 at Penpex in Redwood City. Please call Jerry Lurie (925-682-3020) for full details. Visitors are always welcome.

The Editor notes...

...that I wish to extend congratulations to all those who contributed articles to the 1997 volume of The American Revenuer. This journal was awarded a Gold with felicitations at APS Stampshow 98 which was held in Santa Clara, California, August 27-30 and a Gold at SESCAL (the only one received by a periodical) held October 2-4 in Los Angles. It is due to the efforts of all of the authors that according to the Stampshow jury, our journal "sets the standard for study group journals." The journal was especially noted as being strong in the areas of originality, lasting value and importance to the specialist and philately as a whole. The jury extended its felicitations for Dr. Richard Riley's Fiscal philatelic literature handbook.

...that although it seems to be a long way off, now is the time to begin planning to attend the 1999 ARA convention which will be hosted by Balpex over Labor Day weekend. As convention time approaches we will provide you with hotel information, a schedule of events and for those who whish to exhibit, the show's prospectus will appear on the mailing wrapper for the February, March and May issues of The American Revenuer.

...that you will be receiving your dues notices in a few weeks. You are all urged to reply promptly after the notice is received. At the same time recruit a new member and send their application to the Secretary along with your dues. New members joining after July 1 and before December 31 are considered paid through December 31 of the following year. All new members also receive a copy of Riley's fiscal philatelic literature handbook at no additional charge.

...that if you are interested in writing for this journal but but are not sure where to start contact the editor. We can provide the help you need.

State Revenue News—3rd quarter 1998

Cigarettes a source of controversy in Congress and the courts, but cigarette stamps are the featured items in the third quarter 1998 issue of State Revenue News. Editor Scott Troutman leads with a cigarette stamp collecting printer. Other articles explore cigarette stamps from North Dakota, Ohio, Georgia, Florida, Connecticut, Alabama, Kansas, New Mexico, Utah, Iowa, Kansas and an overview of state stamps applied on top of federal stamps.

Additional articles look at the possible end of drug stamp taxes, the Meyercord Company (makers of decal stamps and stamping machines), Colorado waterfowl stamps, Vermont bear reports, Florida fertilizer stamps, Arizona stamps marked void, New York stock transfer tax refunds, seafood tags, Maryland keg registrations, Connecticut pheasant stamps and Oklahoma wildlife stamps.

A major portion of this issue was devoted to the SRS Auction number 11. This mail sale is open to members of the State Revenue Society and consisted of 374 lots of state revenue stamps of all kinds.

The centennary of the 1898 series

P.P. Co. printed cancel on 1898 battleship proprietary

by Michael J. Morrissey, ARA

The catalog of the printed precancellations on the battleship proprietary stamps of 1898 was first published in 1957. It was essentially the work of Clarence H. Chappell (ARA 33) as updated by Morton Dean Joyce.

I have seen many of Chappell's notes as they related to the earlier proprietary issues. It was obvious to me that Chappell made many assumptions about identification of otherwise unattributed sets of initials. It should, therefore, not be surprising that some of his battleship cancel identifications were errant also.

Unfortunately there appears to be no indication of how an identification was arrived at. Some were no doubt based on solid evidence such as a stamp on an article, but which ones were and which ones were more wishful thinking is unknown.

The Chappell-Joyce catalog lists P.P. Co. with various dates on the 1/4 ¢ brown battleship (Scott No. RB21) and attributes it to the Penn Pharmacal Co. of Philadelphia. Upon what evidence this identification is based is, of course, unstated. My suspicion is that the initials fit and that was all that was necessary. Such an identification should have been stated as a "possible" by the use of a (?) in the listing. Unfortunately, this was not done. As can be seen from the accompanying illustrations, the stamps were used by the Premier Perfumery Co. of Boston, Massachusetts, on a sachet of aromatic organic material. How many other erroneous attributions were made by Chappell and Joyce? Are there others out there with battleship precancels that challenge the conventional identification of the catalog. If so, we would like to hear from you.

The American Revenue Association President's Letter

There is much excitement these days in the field of revenues. Much of what I have written in the last year or two has had to do with their recognition at the international level. This month I wish to point to some other areas of activity.

The presence of revenues in the auctions on the Internet is certainly one exciting area. A mint copy of the 50 cent National Park trailer stamp brought very spirited bidding. It was posted by a non-ARA member with a starting bid under $5 (if I remember correctly). I personally was in the chase competing with at least five other ARA members. The auction ended at just under $400. If you interested in some unusual material at auction and you have access to the Internet, I suggest you check out Ebay https://cayman.ebay.com.

If you are interested in finding philatelic sites on the Internet, the place to start is Joe Luft's site at http://www.execpc.com/—joeluft>. I've been exploring philatelic sites on the Internet for two years and find 99% of them not worth a return visit. A site that does not change one iota for months on end is not worth my continued interest. There is one philatelic web site out there in which I made a suggestion several months ago on the guest book. A week ago I returned to the site and my request for including prices realized remains posted and unanswered. It will be a long time before I return to that web site!

One of the more dynamic sites on the Internet, Netstamps, has ceased to exist. It had good editorial comments on philately and several regular columns, including one on revenues that I authored. Its cessation was a disappointment.

The above mention of the National Park trailer stamps prompts the mention of another development in our hobby that is very positive for the collecting of revenues — the Scott Specialized catalog and Scott Monthly Journal. There was an article about those trailer stamps about a year ago in the Scott Monthly Journal. Indeed there is an article about revenues in most issues of the Scott Monthly Journal. That is certainly not an accident, since the editor is ARA member, Peter Martin. He is also the author of an article on the trailer stamps in the 1998 Philatelic Congress Yearbook. Could the two articles be a harbinger that the trailer stamps will someday be listed in the Scott Specialized?

An ARA member, Jim Kloetzel, is also the editor of the Scott Specialized. Many positive changes in the revenue listings have occurred under his leadership. The beer stamps have been added, the firearms transfer stamps have gone through a major revision, and the unwatermarked varieties of many narcotic tax stamps have been added. Who knows what will be next?

Another positive development related to revenues is the interest in listing plate numbers on revenues in the Durland Catalog. Members are urged to contact the leader of that effort, Wallace Cleland (1710 University Ave, Madison, WI 53705). Efforts are well under way on the battleship documentaries and proprietaries and several other areas, but our membership's assistance is urgently needed.

Ronald E. Lesher, ARA President

U.S. Sales Circuit Notes

In my last column, I offered an inducement for members unfamiliar with the circuit program to take the plunge. Several persons took me up on my offer of a free salesbook, but I'm convinced more can be tempted. So, I'm extending the freebie to year's end. Just drop me a note on a postal card, and I'll mail you the salesbook of your choice at no cost. Let me know which format you prefer: 1, 4, 6, 9 or 12 spaces per page. The 8 1/2" x 11 " oversized salesbook is included in this offer too.

What should be submitted? The circuit could use just about any kind of U. S. revenue material, but the categories most undersupplied are the following: 1898 issues (battleships), playing cards, silver tax, tobacco related, hunting permit (duck stamps: federal only, please), liquor strips and tax paids. This kind of material is eagerly sought.

It's always better to try to limit your salesbooks to one category each. Experience indicates that sales will be improved this way. I experimented with the idea of starting an all-revenues circuit in my last column, but only a handful of members requested it, so I'll stick with the old categories.

From time to time a member will submit salesbooks mounted with nearly identical material. This is fine, but I need to point out that, while I've modeled the ARA circuit on the APS circuit program, the similarity ends with the thousands of salesbooks our affiliated organization has to farm out. No, I seldom have enough books of any given category to form more than one circuit at a time. This results in my having to include all of the like salesbooks in one circuit. My hope is that the receiving members will find cancellation and printing varieties and such to make up for the duplication. So I ask in advance for your understanding in this matter. Keep in mind that I strive to offer as much variety in every circuit as I can, but I can only send out what I receive from you, the membership.

The moral to this saga is: if you don't want duplication, help out by mounting your unwanted revenues in a (free!) salesbook. If enough people do this, duplication will no longer be a problem. Thanks.
